EXCHANGE CRISIS.

HOME EXPERTS DISCUSS IT.

HIGH DOLLAR STOPS COTTON IMPORTS.

LONDON, February 4.
Yesterday's finance conference had a full discussion of an explanatory character. Attempts at a solution of the exchange crisis by legislation were suggested, and the possibility of controlling imports by licences was suggested. Sir Vassar Smith, chairman of Lloyd's Bank, who was present at the conference, in a speech at the annual meeting of the bank yesterday said unless remedies were promptly applied, it was feared that a gradual and persistent spreading of bankruptcy and anarchy must ensue.
It is anticipated the Cabinet will come to a decision quickly but the question will be raised at the next meeting of parliament, in Tuesday's debate on the Address. Meanwhile the effects upon the cotton industry illustrate the likelihood that all sections of the community must be suffering most severely. Yesterday's dollar quotations brought the cotton import business of Liverpool to a complete standstill and importers have begun to reship cotton to America. The matter is most serious for the operatives because the present stocks without fresh imports will be exhausted in ten weeks, although there are considerable quantities at sea.

PUNISHMENT OF WAR CRIMINALS.

PARIS, February 3rd.
The list of Germans whose surrender the Allies demand has been handed to Baron von Lerner. The list is headed by the Crown Prince and several other sons of the Kaiser, and comprises Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, Field Marshal von Hindenburg, General von Ludendorff, Prince Rupprecht, the Duke of Wurttemburg, a number of other Princes and other high officers. The total number is 800.
The list particularises the accusations against persons, whose names have been supplied by Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, Rumania, Jugoslavia and Poland.
PARIS, February 4th.
The resignation of Baron von Lerner caused a great sensation in Conference circles.
The Allied representatives have been hastily summoned, and are now considering the situation.
Baron von Lerner, interviewed by Reuters' representative, said that he resigned his own responsibility in order not to embarrass his own Government. He returned the list to M. Miller-and. He had no option, he declared, in the matter, owing to his repeated declaration that no German official could be found to transmit such a list to Berlin.
He was leaving for Berlin immediately.

HUNGARY.

LONDON, February 3rd.
Reuters understands that the time limit given to Hungary to reply to the Allied demands has been extended until after the assembling of the National Assembly at Budapest on February 24th.

U.S.A. AND GREAT BRITAIN.

WASHINGTON, February 3rd.
The British Charge d'Affaires, Mr.
Lindsay, has handed to Mr. Carter Glass a statement from London positively asserting that Britain does not seek further loans from the United States. On the contrary, she is desirous of reducing her outstanding obligations.

DISTURBED IRELAND.

LONDON, February 2nd.
Dublin Castle states that altogether 65
Sinn Feiners were arrested in Ireland on January 31st. They are held in connection with the recent municipal happenings.
LONDON, February 3rd.
It is officially stated that the arrested Sinn Feiners are detained under the provisions of the Home Act as members of illegal organisations. Many are known to be members of the Irish Republican Army.

NEW YORK, February 3rd.
After hearing a brief address from Mr.
de Valera, the State assembly passed a resolution asking the United States Government to extend its recognition to the Irish Republic on President Wilson's principle of self-determination.
LONDON, February 3rd.
A patrol of constabulary military at Limerick was fired on by a party of civilians. The former returned the fire, were injured.

THE WAR ON BOLSHIEVISM.

LONDON, February 6th.
It is semi-officially stated that the Bolshevists are still 60 miles from Plesha.
In the north Crimea, the Volunteers apparently maintain their hold on the Isthmus of Perekop and Chongar, which are easily defensible.
The Cossacks have taken large numbers of prisoners, as well as four guns, in the fighting on the Manistch.
LONDON, February 3rd.
Reuters learns that the Bolsheviks have captured Nikolai and are advancing towards Ochakov; further, that the chances of defending Odessa are considered very doubtful.
Meanwhile, it is noteworthy that there is up to the present no confirmation of the Ukrainians' claim that they have captured Odessa.

PARIS, February 2nd.
It is reported that General Denikin has retaken the very important Isthmus of Perekop.
A Bolshevik wireless message says:—In the Perekop region, our troops forced back the enemy fourteen miles to the south of Perekop.

LONDON TO THE CAPE.

PRESIDENT WILSON.

WASHINGTON, February 4th.

Wilson caught a cold a few days ago, and narrowly escaped influenza.

from his old illness, and is now able to walk about the second floor of White House unaided.

AMERICA AND THE TREATY.

WASHINGTON, February 2nd.

"TRUTH, JUSTICE, PUBLIC SERVICE"

HONGKONG, MONDAY, FEB 9, 1920.

OUR HARBOUR.

Very nearly a year ago now the China Mail, in a series of special articles and interviews, was calling attention to the increasing size of ships, and reminding the Government that if Hongkong was to maintain its position as a port, preparation must be made for the larger shipping that must be expected when trade resumed. We pointed out what Manila, Shanghai, and Japanese ports were doing. It looks as if we ought to keep on repeating ourselves, in order to save the little bit of kudos we earn by being always up-to-date and first in the field, for others come along at a later date and air our little stunts as their own. We don't say that he was aware of it, but when Jardine's taipan spoke at the Wharf and Godown meeting on Friday about improving our harbour, he used words that might have been lifted bodily from the China Mail. Nor can he say that he didn't read them in the China Mail, for he did use to read us, or otherwise he would never have discovered that he didn't like the general tone of our paper. The prevailing tone of our paper, as everybody else knows quite well, has always been one of alert anxiety for the prosperity of the port in which we earn our living. We are often asked for "constructive" criticism, and we take it the Government will now ask Mr. John Johnston what it is that he wants them to do. They may even suggest that it is up to the Wharf and Godown Company to set a good example by providing bigger and longer wharves for the big ships, so as to eliminate a lot of the lighter work which is a very tedious, expensive, and old-fashioned way of handling cargo in such an important port as ours is. The company is proposing extensions, but so far as we can see, not big enough. The Government having already taken over the moorings, with excellent results, though the "interests" opposed it bitterly, might now take a look round and see if there is nothing else to take over. What about all the wharves and godowns, to be administered by a Port Authority for the benefit of trade generally? This is a suggestion we submit for others to digest and develop. The suggestion that the committee entrusted with the investigation of our economic resources should consider harbour development may have been ironic. It could hardly have been seriously meant. For such important studies we need a very different committee.

If we are to have improvements at all, they should be drastic enough to provide a sufficient answer to all competitors. We would like to see the unofficial members and the Harbour Master appointed on a committee to report on the direction. How to bring Hongkong Harbour up to date and make it so efficient and capable that its lead cannot be challenged for generations to come.

ADVERSARIA.

Our Chamber of Commerce asked our GERMAN. Government for a definite expression of opinion as to our duty and our rights in the matter of trading with Germany and Austrians. The reply is in effect that until the King in Council declares the war over, they are still enemies and the Ordinance forbidding trade with them is still in force; but new business with them is lawful under general licences published. Business outstanding is still restricted. This may be "definite," but it is also ridiculous. The exchange of ratifications should have automatically wiped out all; and if Britons are going after Teutonic trade at all, they should not be held back, pending formal proclamation, until other people have stepped in and snapped it up. As a matter of fact, Britons at home are already after it, the Americans and French having first had a good start.

When we refer to SOUTH COAST to this scheme DEVELOPMENT as "iniquitous" SCHEME, we puzzled several readers. Sorry. What we meant was that this seemed to be another case of "sitting on" development. A private syndicate was given rights before the war which it has made no attempt to exercise, and it is standing in the way of smaller, individual offers. It should be called upon to make good or to quit.

THE REPORTER AGAIN. He says "The Governor moved freely among his guests." We can only suppose the reporter expected the poor man to sit on a high throne remote from them.

A good deal of nonsense has been talked during the weekend about the distressing accident by which a lady golfer knocked out a sailor's eye. Some people seemed to be more sorry for the lady than for the sailor. It is, of course, very unpleasant for Mrs. Maitland, but no one dreams of blaming her in any way. Our sympathy should be for the sailor, who will presumably have to leave the Service, probably without a pension. Although this is the first accident of the kind we know of, there have been many narrow shaves, and the China Mail suggests that it is worth while to arrange that there will not be another. No golf should be allowed at Happy Valley after noon. It is the only place our service lads have for recreation, whereas the golfers have other places. If the Happy Valley links were closed during the afternoons, no hardship would be done, and the public safety would be better assured than it is now.

The Adversarian and his O.B.E. friends are working for Better Order in the British Empire. It's coming. Before investiture there must be devastation. Some men M.G.

BANKING seems to be a profitable business. We have suspected it for a long time. If the Bank of East Asia Ltd. in its very first year, made over $1,300 a day for every working day of the year, what must the big banks be doing? We must cut down the whisky and buy bank shares.

The other papers THE MANILA have been making SCARE. virtuous remarks about the rumour mongers in connection with the scare of a big catastrophe at the Manila Carnival. The public has a short memory, so we had better point out that the China Mail was the only one that didn't rush into sensationalism right away. Our headline was "What has happened in Manila?" and at the end we said all the talk of thousands of deaths lacked foundation.

The appalling cleverness of the Geddes family continues to appal. See his pronouncement at Dover? If Holland definitely declined to give up the Kaiser, he said, and claimed the right under international law to give him sanctuary, she must send him to one of her territories outside Europe. Isn't it obvious that if we can coerce Holland to that extent we can coerce her into giving up the old Hun?

YACHTING.

THE ROYAL HONGKONG YACHT CLUB.

The seventh Championship Event for racing yachts was sailed off on Saturday, the 7th inst., in drizzling rain and a variable wind.

The wind changing during the racing caused nearly all the sailing to be done with a free wind and brought about some interesting results. "Colleen" secured her first win in the Handicaps by saving her time, whilst "Jessica" (though second over the line was unable to save her time to two yachts. "Alissa" scored her fourth win. "Daphne" and "Halcyon" being too interested in their own immediate contest, let her slip away to win by a good margin. "Dawn" beat "Ursula" outright and got the first win, whilst "Sirius" was successful in saving her time and secured second place. "Joan" though finishing in front, could not save her time from "Gael" who, by notching her first win, improved her chances of securing second position in the Championship.

The Handicaps sailed the N. Fairway Buoy (S), Stonecutters (S), course of 10 miles and the other classes Stonecutters (S), 9.0 miles.

COMPANY MEETING.

THE BANK OF EAST ASIA, LTD., HONGKONG.

The first ordinary yearly meeting of the Bank of East Asia, Ltd., was held at 3 p.m., on Saturday, at its registered office, No. 2, Queen's Road, Central.

Mr. Pong Wai Ting presided, and there were present Messrs. Chow Shou Son, Li Koon Chun, Fung Ping Shan, Kan Ying Po, Wong Yun Tong, P. K. Kwok, Mok Ching Kong, Ng Chang Luk, Chan Ching Shek (Directors), Kan Tong Po (Chief Manager), Li Tse Fong (Asst. Manager), and a number of shareholders.

The Chairman said: Gentlemen, You will notice from the accounts which have been in your hands for some time that the results of the Bank's working for the first year is most satisfactory. I will with your permission take them as read. The net profit for the year amounts to $370,268.68, with which it is proposed to deal as follows:

To pay a dividend of 6 per cent. on the paid-up capital of the Bank, which will absorb $120,000.00
To pay a bonus to directors, holders of founders' shares and staff ... 37,340.30
To write off organization expenses ... 7,003.74
To transfer to reserve fund ... 200,000.00
To carry forward ... 5,724.64

Though the amount of profit would justify the declaration of a higher dividend, yet, in order to place the Bank on a more solid basis, the directors propose to create out of the profit a reserve fund of $200,000, which I trust will have the whole-hearted support of the shareholders. Besides its branch at Saigon, which was established a few months ago, and its Shanghai office, which will be opened shortly, the Directors propose to establish two other branches this year, one at Haiphong and the other at Canton. Since the Bank was opened in January last year, the deposits have gradually increased until now they are well over four million dollars. A Savings Department will be established in the course of this year, and the question of the installation of safe-deposit boxes has had the serious consideration of the Directors.

In view of the fact that the premises now occupied by the Bank are likely to be reconstructed, the Directors have recently acquired the premises next to the Netherlands India Commercial Bank, known as Nos. 10 and 10A, Des Voeux Road, Central, for the accommodation of the Head Office. The purchase will be completed sometime this year, and the Bank will move in after certain alterations have been made. I now propose that the report and accounts as circulated be adopted and that the balance at credit of profit and loss account, viz.: $370,268.68, be dealt with as proposed.

The motion was unanimously carried on being seconded by Mr. Fok Fu Ting.

The three retiring Directors, Messrs. Fung Ping Shan, P. K. Kwok and Ng Chang Luk, were re-elected on the motion of Mr. Chow Shou Son, seconded by Mr. Li Koon Chun.

The retiring auditors, Messrs. Percy Smith, Seth and Fleming, were re-elected.

LAUNCH AT TAIKOJ DOCKS.

THE "WAR CORONET."

The s.s. "War Coronet" was launched at noon on Saturday from the building yard of the Taikeoj Docks, the naming ceremony being gracefully performed by Mrs. G. M. Dodwell as the vessel commenced to move down the ways.

This vessel is the fourth of the 8,000 ton deadweight standard steamers built by the Company to the order of the Ministry of Shipping.

CORRESPONDENCE.

[To the Editor of the "China Mail."]

HONGKONG AND KOWLOON
WHARF AND GODOWN
CO., LTD.

Dear Sir—I have read with much interest the Chairman's speech (as reported in the local Press) delivered at the Annual Meeting on 6th inst. and more particularly that portion which dealt with my letter of 5th. Idem to your journal.

I am pleased to learn that the Chairman is, personally, disinclined to take any notice of all anonymous letters and, therefore, congratulate myself on the fact that my letter served, some purpose and touched someone on the "raw," else why did not the Chairman follow his professional principle and ignore it?

"Interested" is a shareholder of many years' standing and is quite aware of his rights in the matter of asking questions without gratuitous advice from the Chairman on the subject.

I observe that the Chairman found "it difficult to resist the conclusion that the cloak of anonymity usually conceals the critic disappointed of personal gain and that he confessed he found it difficult to trace in the matter of this letter a capacity to see further than the length of an ordinary nose."

The critic, in this instance, contrary to the Chairman's hasty conclusion, has made much personal gain in his investment and hopes to make much more in due course.

The Directors of almost all Hongkong's Public Companies are practically the same lot, whose number scarcely exceeds a score. It is not given to every shareholder to be in the happy position of the one-time salesman of the "Princely House," who, at a meeting of the Hongkong Land Investment and Agency Co., Ltd. in 1891, openly "outed" the then Chairman of that Company, who happened to be the resident Head of that selfsame "Princely House." (The Chairman of the Wharf Co., might do worse than turn up the report of that meeting and read, mark, learn and inwardly digest the subject matter of the discussion. It might prove educative.)

There are many shareholders in this colony who might wish to appear at the Annual Meetings and criticize as well as ask questions, but for many and various reasons, cannot afford to do so, hence the adoption of the immemorial custom of writing to the Press anonymously. Did they otherwise, they might incur treatment similar to that meted out to the China Mail by the Hon. gentleman who presides over the destinies of the "Princely House." Being a shipper of China Produce I might not be able to secure space for my shipments by any of the many steamers which the Chairman's firm controls, despite the fact that such control is exercised as Managers or Agents for the Owners only.

The question is not—"Who is the writer or author of such letters?" But rather, "Is the subject matter of the letter correct, and one for legitimate criticism?"

It is unfortunate that the Chairman, in alluding to the correspondence, saw fit to "throw mud" (both this and the attack on the anonymity of the letter being the usual refuge of one unable to meet argument by argument) by stating that he "found it difficult to trace in the matter of the letter a capacity to see further than the length of an ordinary nose," because this opening reference to the letter in question, showed plainly, that he, himself, had been led, most probably, by that organ, by some member of the Board, who, probably, drew his attention to the unwisdom of allowing the letter to be ignored.

The Chairman is new to his position and I invite his attention to the figures set forth further on, which may prove worthy of a little consideration at his hands. It might also prove beneficial to him to investigate the past records of the Star Ferry Co., which is managed by the Wharf Co., and the Board of Directors of which, is always composed of directors of the Wharf Co. Therein, I opine, he will find much food for reflection, especially if he will take the trouble to inspect both companies' "Returns of Shareholders"—the Star Ferry's—say—before the calling-up of the unpaid balance of the first issue of new shares, and after the several increases of capital had been effected—the Wharf Co.'s—say—from 1913 to 1919—and take due note of the holdings, at the different periods, of certain parties. Thereafter, he may not be so ready to cast cheap jibes at anonymous writers.

Further, since the Chairman seems so satisfied with his knowledge of the Company's affairs, past, present and future, I would invite him to ask himself and answer, in all sincerity, whether he, as Chairman, and not another member of the Board, is first and most frequently consulted by the Secretary on all and every matter connected with the Company and its business.

If he would peruse my letter he will find that my complaint was not wholly that the future was being literally provided for, (although, as a matter of fact, I consider it is) but that the burden thereof was the inconsistency in dealing with profits from year to year.

But as he has referred to this aspect of the question, I would like to point out that posterity is being unduly well provided for at the expense of the present generation of shareholders, as an inspection of the figures lower down will amply prove.

On 1918 working results the Directors could have paid a dividend of $6, and a bonus of $2, per share, which, together with the $16.67 representing 1/34 "cumshaw" share, would have been a magnificent distribution and it would have enabled them to carry forward to 1919 Account $150,523.98 instead of $40,523.98 only. This would have permitted a dividend for 1919 of $6 and bonus of $2 per share (or the same as for 1918) without in any way curtailing the appropriations for depreciation and carry forward. As a matter of fact, the 1918 Accounts, if so treated, would have provided a further surplus of $40,000 after paying $8 in dividend and bonus for 1919. Instead of which the Directors have paid a bonus for 1919 of $2.50 per share less than for 1918, and this, in face of the fact that all Hongkong knew the company had done better than in the previous year (it was a record year in fact) and, naturally, expected a return similar to that for 1918.

Out of 1917 and 1918 profits $10, per share was paid in dividends and Bonuses, and, as the profits for 1919 were more than in either of those two years, the least that should have been done, would have been to make a similar distribution.

Had this been done, the distribution of 1919 profits would have been as follows:—

Profits available.....	$ 939,703.23
Pay dividend of $5 p. share.....	480,000.00
Pay bonus of $4 p. share.....	320,000.00
Write off for depreciation.....	100,000.00
Carry forward to new account.....	39,703.23
Total.....	$939,703.23

Can anyone see anything wrong with this?

If it was deemed satisfactory in 1918 to carry forward $40,523.96 after writing off $115,625 only, why, with larger profits in 1919, is it considered imperative to write off $37,193 and carry forward $146,382.27 more than in the previous year?

Is this consistent or is it "playing a game?"

I appreciate the proposition that the present interests of the individual should be subordinated to those of the future of the company, provided always, it be not overdone!

I respectfully submit that, in view of the great scarcity of shipping in Hongkong during the past four years, notwithstanding which the company made increasing profits each year, there is every prospect of a very great increase in the number of ships that will visit this port in this and subsequent years, which cannot fail to bring a corresponding increase to the company's business. Should this desirable event happen and extra business necessitate further expenditure for godowns, wharves, lighters and equipment, it is natural that further capital should be raised to meet such expenditure. Such capital should not be provided out of profits. It may be very nice for our successors to provide heavily out of profits for their benefit but would hardly please present shareholders.

But it must not be overlooked that Jardine Matheson & Co., Ltd., and Charter & Mody are the respective "heirs-at-law to the Chairmanship and a Directorship, which may or may not have some influence on the policy hitherto followed by these parties in regard to the Company's accounts.

BANKRUPTCY COURT.

In the Bankruptcy Court, this morning, before Mr. Justice Gom-pertz, the following cases were dealt with:—The Wah Hong Steamship Company (adjudged hearing of petition). Mr.
G. R. Hayward asked that the hearing be adjourned sine die, which was granted.The Fok Ming Kai firm, trading as Yuet Long Tea House (hearing petition). Mr. E. J. Lewis, of Messrs.
Johnstone, Stokes and Master, said
he appeared for the petitioning creditor. An interim receiving order had already been made but the debtor had not yet been served and it might become necessary to apply for an order for substituted service. He would ask for an adjournment until the bankruptcy day.

Application granted.

The Shiu Wo Cheong firm and Nam
Man On (hearing petition). Mr. E.
J. Lewis said here again he appeared for the petitioning creditor and an interim order had been made. In this case there were assets. The debtors were one merchants and at one time were doing very well but when the armistice was signed, contracts were broken and—His Lordship: Oh yes, I know—when this "disastrous peace" came upon us.Mr. Lewis said there were book debts in other countries and no doubt some of these would be realised in course of time.

A receiving order was made.

GOLF INVENTIONS.

CLUBS LEGAL AND ILLEGAL.

A recent note in The Daily Mail as to the illegibility of steel-shafted golf clubs has produced a number of letters.

An interesting question is put to the Rules Committee by a Dublin golfer. "As a user of these clubs," he says, "I would like to know why it is permissible to play with aluminium-headed putters when steel shafts are barred. I certainly consider the former a greater freak than the latter."

Departures from the traditional form and make of the implements used in the game are judged on their merits as they arise. At a time when the germs of originality are manifest again in the direction of evolving clubs which may appeal to golfers suffering from loss of form, it is as well that we should review the measure of licence allowed.

So far this year the outbreak has been mild. Increasing numbers of wooden clubs with unusually large heads made their appearance of late, possibly due to the example of Abe Mitchell. They are not quite so formidable as the Dreadnought drivers of ten or twelve years ago but they are mightily substantial.

There is no legal limit to the size of a club-head, but a fancy that magnitude makes for effect is generally dissipated in the fulness of time. For one thing it does not promote concentration—that first essential of the game—like a club-head of normal size, which is so clearly only just large enough for the purpose as to cause the player to focus all his attention on the task.

WHY ALUMINIUM IS ALLOWED.

In a little while, when the rush of orders for ordinary clubs has been met, inventive genius will blossom again in the old sweet way.

I have heard of two firms who propose to make steel-shafted clubs. Another scheme is a club with a thin steel rod running from the heel about fourteen inches up the centre of the wooden shaft, the idea being to increase the power of the impact.

It remains to be seen whether the authorities will allow the introduction of metal into the shaft. True it is that aluminium-headed clubs—a comparatively modern notion—are permitted. Carl Bretherton, the present Irish open amateur champion, once played with a complete range of them in the British amateur championship. I saw Mr. Oscar Asche using aluminium creak, spoon, and loft a week or two ago, and aluminium putters are far more common than wooden putters.

The barring of these clubs would have been illogical. Aluminium is a metal, and at least three-fourths of the golf clubs in the world have metal heads.

The attitude of the Rules Committee—although it has never been definitely stated—seems to be that you may have metal of any kind in the head of the club but none in the shaft.

Unorthodoxy in the construction of the head is not permitted to find an outlet in "mechanical contrivances, such as springs," and clubs of the mallet-headed type are barred. A hard blow, this, for a man I knew who played his short putts with a household hammer!

But a good deal of liberty is permitted. Facings nailed or screwed to the striking surface are allowed. Ivory and various other substances have been tried. This, perhaps, is a survival of the days when club-faces wore away quickly owing to the hardness of the gutta-percha ball and it was customary to have a piece of leather fixed to the face so as to save a good club.

THE FOUR BOLTS.

That wonderful driver with which Edward Ray was wont to play such master shots both from the tee and through the green—everybody who tried it said he had never known anything like it—had four steel bolts flush with the rest of the face and merging into a piece of metal that went through to the back of the head.

Alas! this club was burnt in the fire that destroyed his place at Oakley. There are a great many golfers who think that the Rules Committee ought to insist on the plainness of the club-head just as it refuses to allow experiments with the shaft, but as matters stand, the head is the portion of the club which gives the inventor scope for his genius.

To be sure some people have gone a little too far. One man invented an iron club which had a narrow ridge of metal running along the bottom of the face—a protuberance from the sole which afforded an artificial means of making the ball rise.

THE CZECHS.

LONDON, February 2.
General Gaida in an interview declared that Koltchak was arrested only by Russian revolutionary forces and the Allies requested the Czechs to fight in order to secure his release, but the Czechs refused as they had already suffered heavy losses. Gaida stated that the new Government at Irkutsk consisted of moderate but progressive politicians. He emphatically asserted that the Czechs were incapable of intriguing with the Bolsheviks.

KAISER TO DUTCH COLONY?

GREAT AUK'S GREAT IDEA.

LONDON, Feb. 9.
Sir Auckland Geddes at Dover said the government intended to get the Kaiser out of Holland and put him on trial, and whatever penalty was allotted to him would be carried out but if on the basis of international law Holland definitely said "no; that she intended to provide an asylum for him within her territory," then we must say he could not live in Dutch territory in Europe and she would have to put him on some island belonging to her outside Europe.

RELATED NEWS FROM VLADIVOSTOK.

A STATE OF SIEGE.

LONDON, February 9.
The Times' Vladivostok correspondent on January 28 says a state of siege was proclaimed there. The Japanese were guarding the state bank, where at a daring theft of several million roubles was effected the day before. It was reported that large Japanese reinforcements were coming. The diplomatic representatives were concerting measures for the protection of the lives and property of foreigners, constituting sixty per cent. of the population, including 60,000 Chinese and 6,000 Japanese.

INDIAN COTTON STRIKE.

BOMBAY, January 29.
A meeting of 20,000 cotton mill operatives decided not to resume work despite the advice of the labour settlement committee.

BOMBAY, January 27.
The mill strike has entered a new and more sinister phase. There is evidence that the bulk of the operatives would gladly accept the liberal conditions promised by the mill-owners at the solicitation of the governor but when work was resumed at seven of the mills this morning gangs of rowdies terrorised the men into leaving. They stoned the military picket compelling it to fire. One striker was injured. The result is that the whole industry is still idle and as there is not any likelihood of the mill-owners altering their terms, possibly the strike will be protracted.

GERMAN WAR CRIMINALS.

PARIS, February 4.
Von Lersner the acting head of the German delegation, has resigned, having refused to transmit the Allied list of war criminals wanted for extradition.

PARIS, Feb. 9.
According to L'Intransigeant, Great Britain is claiming 112 German war criminals.

Berlin reports that von Lersner's refusal to take the allied list was contrary to his instructions, and his request to retire from the imperial service was immediately accepted.

Copenhagen has a message from Berlin which shows that despite von Lersner's action the Allied list with a covering note reached the foreign office and will be published to-morrow. The cabinet is considering it to-night.

A reply to von Lersner's note is drafted to be approved by the council of ambassadors this evening. It is understood the British charge d'affaires at Berlin will be instructed to present the note and list direct to the German government. While best informed people consider that von Lersner's action was entirely personal, it appears highly probable that von Lersner prior to the receipt of the allied demand consulted Berlin with regard to the attitude he should adopt. Some French circles opine that Germany is making the question a test of strength and grave importance is attached to the incident.

CHINA STATION TROPHIES MISSING.

LONDON, February 8.
An Admiralty official statement says von Tirpitz's recently published memoirs state, wholly contrary to fact, that British naval officers attached to Togo's staff, during the Russo-Japanese war took an active and important part in the decisions of the Japanese command in action. As this allegation is a reflection on the professional reputation of a most distinguished Japanese admiral, the Foreign Secretary, at the Admiralty's request, has informed the Japanese Ambassador that it has the government's unqualified contradiction.

BOLSHEVIKS WINNING.

LONDON, Feb. 4.
Reuter learns that as a result of forced marches the Bolsheviks are established upon a line thirty versts long westward of Nikolaieff. It is now clear the Ukrainian claim that they had captured Odessa was untrue, and that the proximity of the Reds thereto is most serious. The latest British news from Vladivostok on Dec. 31 shows that the revolutionary occupation was peaceful. Some military missions are westward of Vladivostok, but it is not anticipated that the revolutionaries will interfere with them.

ARCHANGEL, February 9.
An extraordinary change of attitude is reflected in speeches that Lenin and Trotsky are stated to have delivered at the Soviet conference at Moscow on national economy, and published in an official statement here. Lenin emphasised the necessity of substituting autocratic for associated power in the organisation of government and industry, as already carried out in the army. He described this as an evolutionary measure and said success lay in the autocracy of the communist leaders and in communist domination of the people.

Trotsky said the only means of strengthening the Soviets' power was to assemble the workmen at the factories and send them from place to place on the government's instructions. The peasants would be turned into a labour corps. Under military discipline armies would requisition peasants meat wheat fish in order to assure labourers work.

BOLSHEVIKS NOT WINNING.

ARCHANGEL, February 9.
A wireless message from Odessa on Feb. 4 reports a recent great victory of the volunteer army over the Red Cavalry, which is the Bolshevik corps d'elite. After the capture of Rostoff and Novotcherkassk, they attempted to force the passage of the Don and were thrown back in confusion, losing sixty guns and 150 machineguns, as well as 5,000 men. On another sector of Denikina's front the Reds lost thirteen guns and 500 men.

COMPANY MEETING.

UNION WATERBOAT CO., LTD.

The fifteenth annual ordinary general meeting of the Union Waterboat Company was held in the offices of Messrs. Dodwell & Co., at 11 a.m., to-day.

The Hon. Mr. S. H. Dodwell was in the chair and the others present were Messrs. A. Ritchie, J. W. C. Bonnar, G. Omen, G. R. Edwards, A. E. Crappell, W. Adamson, E. Ezra, G. M. Dodwell and C. Gerken (secretary).

The Chairman said: Gentlemen.—The report and accounts having been in your possession for some days, I will, with your permission, take them as read. The profit on trading for the year amounts to $47,026.02 as against $27,646.14 last year, and including the interest on investments and the carry forward from last year, there is an amount available for distribution of $62,438.75. I feel sure that this result will be satisfactory to you and that you will also approve of the allocation recommended in the report. There has naturally been a great increase in the demand for water, due to the return to the port of a large quantity of tonnage diverted during the war, and also of course to fresh tonnage making use of the port, and our boats have been very hard put to it to cope with this demand. During the year a new water-boat has been contracted for which should be ready next month, while, to enable us efficiently to deal with the estimated requirements of the port, a further boat will be constructed, probably during the latter part of this year. Last year you will remember that $9,000 was placed to special repairs account towards the cost of certain replating that would be necessary when the cost of steel became more reasonable. Unfortunately, owing to the demand, the pressure on the boats has been too great to allow of this work being done last year, but it will be commenced immediately the first new boat is in commission, and in the meantime your superintendent is satisfied that the delay in carrying out these repairs will not adversely affect the life of the boats. It is not necessary to increase this special repair fund, which is considered sufficient for purposes for which it was set aside. You will notice that we have to write off $1,896 from investments to bring them down to their market value on

MARINE COURT.

STRANDING OF THE S.S.
"KAIFONG."

A Marine Court sat this morning to enquire into the circumstances of the stranding of the s.s. "Kaifong" (Butterfield & Swire). The Court was composed of Captain Basil Taylor, R.N. (president), Lieut. F. J. Lambert, R.N., D.S.C. (H.M.S. "Carlisle"), Captain T. Arthur, of Messrs. Goddard and Douglas, Mr. J. W. Reed, master of the s.s. "Proteus", and Capt. N. W. V. Corlanch, master of the s.s. "Cheong Shing".

Capt. E. B. Jones, master of the "Kaifong", said the vessel stranded off the island of Siang Lai Tao, in the Tungking gulf, on December 20, while on a voyage from Pakhoi to Haiphong. The vessel was carrying 100 tons of general cargo, and 27 passengers, including one European. The weather was clear and cloudy with a north-east wind and moderate seas. At 2.39 on the morning of December 20, he was awakened by the vessel striking. He went on the bridge and put the engine room telegraph to stop, since the engines were going full speed. He asked the chief officer where they were and the latter replied he did not know. There was land about half a mile distant. The vessel, at the time she struck, was going at about ten knots. He ordered the well to be sounded and he also took soundings round the ship. Life saving appliances were got ready, boats slung out, and everything done for the purpose of life saving. At daylight one of the ship's boats was sent out to find assistance and communication was established with some junks and the passengers were sent to the nearest port—Hongkong. The ship was making water and soundings showed seven feet in the main hold, and it was decided that it would be useless to try to get the vessel off. Later on the engine room began to make water. In steering his course, which was the usual one, he made full allowance for the tide. He had never been on the run before. It was his first trip in the vessel.

John Hibbert, chief officer of the vessel, gave corroborative evidence. He said the night was dark but clear. The sea was choppy. The vessel was going about ten knots. He sighted a steamer on the starboard bow at about 12.30 and lights of several junks on both bows. At 2 a.m. it started to rain and at 2.39 the ship struck. He was satisfied that the ship was on her course. He saw no land. He could not see the land when the ship struck. At the actual moment the ship struck, he was standing on the midship's part of the bridge.

Captain Innes, Marine Superintendent of the China Navigation Company, said the statements of the Chief Officer were corroborative of the Master's.

After further evidence had been taken, the Court found:—That the s.s. "Kaifong" sailed from Pakhoi for Haiphong at 4.15 p.m. on Dec. 19, 1931. At 5.7 p.m. the ship's position was verified by cross bearings and the course set S. 61 deg. W. (true) to pass 11 miles outside Norway Islands. Nothing was sighted except lights of passing vessels. At 2.39 a.m. the ship struck on a shoal to the north of Siang Lai Tao, which is ten miles from the estimated position of the ship. There is no evidence of the ship having been off her course at any time. We are of opinion that the ship must have experienced a strong set to westward which may be regarded as unusual, and not to be anticipated. The master took all necessary steps before and after the stranding.

HONGKONG SHIELD COMPETITION.

"HAWKINS," 0; SOUTH CHINA, 0.

Despite the none too encouraging weather on Saturday, this match in the first round of the Hongkong Football Shield Competition was played on the Club ground, and proved to be very interesting and well contested. It will go down in the records as one of the best games of the season. The match was very clean, and a pleasure to watch. In the matter of speed, there was little to choose between the teams.

Losing the toss, the Chinese kicked off, and by means of a series of their characteristic long passes, they were successful in baffling their opponents for a while, and were soon in enemy territory, but the sailors' had a sound man in the person of their right back, and this worthy robbed the Chinese and kicked to midfield without much difficulty. It soon became evident that this right back was a corker. Excepting on one or two occasions when he slipped and fell on the wet turf, the ball never got beyond him, and the goal was given little or no work to do. After a spell at midfield where the respective forwards brought all their stock of tricks into play to win an advantage, the sailors' speedy left winger was placed in possession. Two of the defenders struck to his heels and gave him no chance. He centred, and Lt. Bonham Carter, the sailors' centre-forward took a shot at goal without waiting to stop the ball as it came from the foot of the wing. The ball very nearly entered the net; the Chinese goalie was just able to punch it away, and the left back cleared. After another spell at midfield during which time the Chinese came in for a lot of well earned applause for their clever and tricky play, Ip Kau and Cheong Wing Hen broke away in a fine piece of combination, and made a bee line for the sailors' goal, where their progress was checked by the right back, and Ip Kau sent the ball to the right wing before he could be robbed. In his excitement however, he misjudged the strength of his kick, and the ball rolled into touch before his right winger could chase it up. From the throw in, the sailors relieved the pressure and again placed their left winger in possession. He travelled at a great pace, with Lt. Bonham Carter keeping in line with him. When in difficulty near the half back line, he centred neatly to the centre forward, who trapping the ball, took a zigzag course towards goal at an equally amazing pace. Lt. Bonham Carter got in difficulties when he was faced by both the Chinese backs, and passed to his inside right partner, but the latter was a few paces behind the centre forward, and could not get at the ball in time. The Chinese centre-half cleared. At half time, the score sheet was blank. A feature of this half was the clean football which was exhibited. Excepting for a few offside which could not be avoided in such a fast and exciting match, there was not a single foul awarded to either side.

The second moiety opened just as fast as the first, with the sailors perhaps the fresher of the two teams, but nevertheless, the Chinese kept pace with their opponents very pluckily and for the first fifteen minutes of this half, they managed to make play very even, attacking with keen determination and making themselves as dangerous as possible, and it took all the sailors' time to check their progress. Then the Chinese began to give signs of exhaustion, and it was at this juncture that the sailors went out to snatch a victory, but the Chinese all fell back to defend their citadel, and formed up into such a solid wall, that it was impossible to get the ball anywhere near the goal. The sailors forced a corner after much fruitless pressure, and this came very near materializing, but the ball skimmed the cross bar and bounded into touch. From midfield, the sailors returned the ball to enemy territory, and here one of the defenders handled the ball a couple of feet from the penalty area. The sailors' right back came down to take the free kick, but the Chinese were so watchful, that the sailor had to resort to tricks in their last attempt to snatch a win. Whilst their right back stood in front of the ball, one of their forwards made a dash towards it as if he was going to take the kick and simultaneously, the back put his toe to the ball. Even this trick did not work, and the leather bounded from one of the defenders right to the feet of the left winger who lost no time in putting as many yards between the ball and his citadel as one lucky kick could make possible. When the final whistle came, the score sheet was still blank. It should be very interesting to watch the replay of this match, when, given better weather conditions, a faster and more exciting match will be witnessed.

2ND DIVISION LEAGUE.

With the exception of the Kowloon South China "A" match, there was nothing very interesting in all the second division matches. St. Joseph's College who have been losing quite a lot of matches recently, fielded a strong side on Saturday, and beat the Indians by seven goals to nil. With the exception of one or two onslaughts by the Indians early in the game, the ball was always in their own territory, and the goals came at regular intervals. The Staffs had another off day on Saturday when they beat South China "B" by five goals to nil. The Chinese are never good on a wet day, and the soldiers did practically all they wished. In the Kowloon match, there was a little more vigour in the exchanges, and for quite a while the ball was kept at midfield, but soon getting tired of playing with their opponents, Kowloon set out goal getting in earnest, and they came quick enough, almost every time Kowloon took the leather down into enemy territory. At half time the scores read 2 goals to nil in favour of Kowloon. Rasmussen was responsible for both these goals. Soon after the resumption, Rasmussen notched his side's third goal. The fourth goal came from Millard from a good pass from Rasmussen. At the final whistle, Kowloon emerged the winners by four goals to nil.

UNITED SERVICES LEAGUE.

"TAMAR," 3; "AMBROSE," "A," 0.

This match in the United Services League was played on the Navy ground on Saturday and resulted in a rather easy win for the "Tamar" by 3 goals to nil.

Owing to the bad weather and the slippery state of the ground, good football was impossible, and tumbles were numerous.

The game opened at a fairly brisk pace with the "Ambrose" assuming the offensive, but their progress was checked by any who played with sound judgment as usual. After a spell at midfield, Graydon, Brant and Taliana, made a combined attack on the "Ambrose" citadel and forced a corner from which Graydon scored. "Ambrose" made strenuous efforts to equalize after this, and Clulow came very near scoring for his side but Amy forced him and the ball over the line. "Ambrose" continued to press until Graydon was placed in possession by "Tamar's" centre half. Graydon ran down the field in fine style, passing to Taliana when tackled near goal. The latter kicked the ball as it came to him and shot it with force into the net for "Tamar's" second goal. "Tamar's" third and last goal came towards the close of the match through their left winger, who, after a good sprint down the field, centered the ball beautifully and Graydon headed it into the net.

The league table which includes Saturday's matches, is appended.

NATIONALISATION OF MINES.

LONDON. February 5th.
The demand for the nationalisation of mines was discussed to-night between Mr. Lloyd George and the Parliamentary Committee of the Trade Union Congress and the executive of the Miners' Federation.
It will be remembered that the Trades Union Congress in Glasgow, resolved in the event of the Government still refusing to put it to force the principle of nationalisation, a special Congress would be convened to decide the form of action to be taken to compel the Government to accept the principle.
The discussion lasted for an hour and a half. The proceedings were private, but it is stated that Mr. Lloyd George indicated that the views of himself and the Government on the subject had not changed but that in a scheme of coal control, which was being prepared, there was a possibility of reconsideration of certain points.

Second, that the loan be repaid without delay;
Third, that the Government join the disbursement of the loan on both sides, and should employ a portion of the proceeds of the loan for that purpose; and Fourth, that the Government should place the loan in the hands of the four banks, who should supervise the disbursement of the loan and the repayment of the loan.

THE MANILA CARNIVAL FIRE.

EYEWITNESS'S STORY.

An eyewitness of the Manila Carnival fire was interviewed by a China Mail reporter this morning, and stated that the whole thing happened so suddenly that few realised what had really happened, until the whole of the Carnival buildings appeared to be a mass of flames. There was a very strong wind and the flames were carried the whole length of the exhibition buildings with remarkable rapidity, and the reflection could be seen forty miles out to sea. The fire started at what was known as the Leyte exhibit, and the cause is attributed to the fusing of an electric wire. It was fortunate that the grounds were enclosed by a light wooden paling, for this enabled the people to get away, the paling being pulled down. Had there been a more substantial barricade, the loss of life would have been terrible. It was reported that looters took advantage of the confusion and got away with about $25,000 worth of pearls, which were on exhibition and belonged to Messrs. L. and S. Komitzer. Many arrests were made. Another curious incident was that only about a half an hour before the fire, an aviator had made a parachute descent from an aeroplane and landed right in the spot where the fire later was most fierce. High praise is due to many individuals for plucky rescues including Sergeant McGonagle of the U.S. Army and also Mr. Burns of the S.S. "Yuensang" both of whom rendered yeoman service.
The following is the official list of the casualties:—
Sergeant Thomas McGonagle (U.S. Army).
Private Harry Hilton (U.S. Army).
Simona Mariano (address unknown).
Crispina Bobina, Bernardina Alferez, Juanita Pereda, Juanita Cabosora, Trinidad Carta, Bienvenido Carta, Pasita Rosales, P. Paterno, Francisca Tamasia, Josefina Casimiro, Alberto de Joya, Mariano Tayag, Benedicta Garcia and Francisca Canasias. Gregorio Ans, aged eleven years, is missing.
Further details will appear in the China Mail to-morrow.

WEDDING.

YOUNG—HURLEY.

A pretty wedding took place at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, Glencely, on Saturday afternoon, the contracting parties being Mr. J. A. Young, of Messrs. H. Percy Smith, Seth and Fleming, and Miss Mary Hurley, of Causeway Bay.
The bride who was given away by Mr. C. M. Soares, looked charming in a beautiful pink satin embroidered gown with shoes to match, and carried in her hands a shower bouquet of white chrysanthemums and maiden hair ferns. She was attended by the Misses Greenfield and Chow as bridesmaids.
Right Rev. Bishop D. Pozzoni officiated, assisted by Rev. Fr. Bianchi, whilst Mr. H. Percy Smith performed the duties of "bestman".
After the ceremony, a reception was held at the Catholic-Union Club the hall of which was beautifully decorated especially for the occasion. The toast "bride and bridegroom" was prop. sed by Mr. H. Percy Smith and enthusiastically honoured by the large gathering present.
The bridegroom who is an enthusiastic member of the Catholic Union Club, was presented with a beautiful silver tea set by the members of the Committee.
The "Nightmare" string band, composed of members of the Club, attended and rendered some fine selections.
